"King And I" In Men's Gym Tonight

Campus Crier

Central Washington College of Education

VOLUME 29, NUMBER 12 ELLENSBURG, WASH. FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1957

WHO WILL REIGN AS KING CUPID TONIGHT? These six young men are candidates for King Cupid for tonight's Cupid's Informal in the men's gym. King Cupid will be crowned during the dance, which is sponsored annually by the sophomore class. Sophomore social commissioners, Diane Chapman, announced that the theme of the dance "The King and I." The six candidates, left to right, are Dave Scarce, Jerry Yeager, Don Kremer, Ed Sand, Chuck Hammill and John Draper. Miss Chapman, left, and Jan Kanenwisher, King Cupid election chairmen, are also shown.

WUS Collection Total Over $400

World University Service Week contributions totaled $441.30 Peggy Watts and Vic Olsen, WUS co-chairmen announced.

Nellie Punch and Pat Short reported receipts from club day were received from the Herodetians, $68.31; Associated Women Students, $25; Spurs, $18.66; Home Ec Club, $5.15; Munson Hall, $5; Future Teachers of America, $5; for a total of $129.32.

Faculty Day receipts totaled $102.43. Varying amounts were collected from the bake sale, shoe-shine and voting, totaling $51.71; collections in the dining halls, $11.22; science book sale, $6.50; and individual contributions of the faculty, $27. Alice Mason and Bill Raschow were in charge of Thursday's Faculty Day.

A total of $123.61 was made at the Wednesday evening mixer, Friday night's dance and the fire-side on Saturday.

Thursday's talent show under the direction of Dorothy Heintz and Alden Esping, collected an even one hundred dollars.

A donation of twenty-five dollars was also received from Peggy Sharpe, Central's Danforth graduate student.

Dr. Bullard Announces Speech 201 Exemptions

Any student who wishes to try for an exemption from speech 201, must secure and fill out in advance a form available in the office of the chairman of the Division of Language, Literature and Speech, Dr. Catharine Bullard announced this week.

The form may be picked up at A-407 and must be returned not later than Wednesday, Feb. 13. Tryouts will be held on Feb. 21 in A-405 at 3 p.m.

Students will be notified of the topics for their tryout speeches one week in advance. These notices will be placed in the students' campus post-office box.

Representatives Announced For 1957 Blood Campaign

Blood drive chairman, Ted Wood, announced dorm representatives this week. Representatives in each dorm have release slips that must be signed by parent or guardian before any student under 21 may donate blood.

Wood stated that the quota of 150 pints is a bare minimum. All students are urged to donate blood. He hopes this figure will be topped at Central Washington College and will make this the most successful blood drive in recent years.

Donors are again reminded that blood donated at any Red Cross blood drive is never sold. Students who confuse private blood banks with the Red Cross sponsored banks should inquire for further information.

An article in the February 1 issue of the Campus Crier explained the blood drives of Red Cross and private blood banks.

Representatives in the various dorms for the February 20th drive are Monroe, Jerry Thomas; Alford, Mike Austin; North Hall, Alden Esping; Wilson, Bill Moliter; Carmody, Tom Mowry; Montgomery, George Scott; Kennedy, Jim Deeney; Sue Lombard; Marjorie Gilkeson; Kamola, Mary Ellen Pendergast; and Munson, Bev Crumpacker and Trinkia Lucas.

Off campus students may give blood between the hours of 10:45 a.m. and 2:45 p.m. in the CUB on February 20.

Mercury Vapor Light Planned For CUB Steps

A Mercury vapor light has been ordered by the Union board according to Mrs. Olive Schnebly, director. The light will be placed in front of the steps of the Union building, on a steel pole.

Mercury vapor lights are like the city street lights and it is being purchased from the city but will be installed by the college.

"It will light up the area and provide a greater measure of safety on the steps in front of the Union building," Mrs. Schnebly stated.

REW Activities Come To Close

Religious Emphasis Week closed yesterday with speeches by Clifford P. Wolfsehr, Rabbi William A. Sanderson, Miss Dorathea Teeter and Father Joseph N. Hanly.

The week began with a kick-off assembly in the college auditorium. Wayne Hertz directed the Central Singers in four selections after which Chuck Urdahl and Beverly Farmer, co-chairmen of REW, introduced the speakers.

Visiting speakers for the week included Father Hanly of Portland, Rabbi Sanderson of Spokane and Miss Teeter, a missionary in Tripoli, Lebanon. The Reverend Mary McKee Chester, who was scheduled to be one of the speakers, was unable to participate in the REW program due to illness.

Wolfsehr, librarian at Central, was the only speaker from Ellensburg.

The week's activities included firesides in the dorms, seminars and classroom lectures by the speakers.

Mayor Anderson Offers Program

A three-point program was offered for consideration during the Vetville meeting at North Hall, Jan. 31. Dr. Robert E. McConnell, CWCE president, Dr. Lawrence C. Davenport, physical plant director and the SGA council were guests.

Vetville Mayor Roger Anderson stated the following purposes for the meeting:

1. To strengthen understanding between the administration and Vetville.
2. To present a petition of im-

Angel Hair And Red Lights Decorate Cupid's Informal

Probably the greatest gathering of kings ever assembled under one roof will take place tonight in the men's gym when the sophomore class presents this year's Cupid's Informal. The theme of the 1957 tolo is "The King and I."

Material Ordered For Vetville, McConnell States

Dr. Robert E. McConnell, president of Central Washington College informed a representative group of Vetville residents, at a meeting Tuesday evening, that insulation material had been ordered for their housing units.

The materials are expected to arrive by the end of the week and work would begin on Monday with three extra men helping the school carpenters. Dr. McConnell also said that the washroom floor was to be recovered, and after a plan to re-arrange the room is completed another washer would be installed.

A discussion followed on maintenance and Central's future plans for married students. Dr. Davenport of the maintenance department and SGA president Jack Lybber also attended the meeting.

Cadet Forms Due Feb. 15

Friday, Feb. 15, is the last day to turn in applications for student teaching for Spring Quarter. Applications are to be turned in at the office of Dr. Roy Ruebel, Director of Student Teaching.

"Some areas which are usually quite crowded appear to offer good possibilities for spring quarter," said Dr. Ruebel.

The student teaching director's office requests that anyone who has completed the prerequisites and who has planned to student teach during the Autumn Quarter is asked to consider the possibility of teaching during spring quarter. This would help balance the load, states Dr. Ruebel.

Any student with questions about student teaching should contact Dr. Ruebel.

Olympia Trek Now In Progress

Thirty-one students, accompanied by Dr. Elwyn Odell, journeyed to the State Legislature in Olympia today where they will observe the House and Senate in action.

The group is composed mainly of members of the Young Democrats and Young Republicans clubs.

The planned agenda included a tour of the capital grounds, observation of the houses in session, lunch in the capital cafeteria and visits to the offices of various officials.

Those attending are Claude Acre, Betty Allender, Rose Anderson, Mike Austin, Ken Bardessono, James Blair, Ruby Fair, Larry Fletcher, Larry Griffith, John Growcock, Jean Hobbs, Larry Johnston, Jim Kemp, Mike McMahon and Dave Mesojednich.

mediate needs if the units are to be retained.

3. To secure the administration's point of view toward future housing for married students.

An open discussion was followed by a question and answer period.

Under a false ceiling of white angel hair and red lights, Central lassies will dance with their "kings" to the music of the Hi-Fi's from 9-12 p.m.

Other decorations will include sprayed trees with tiny red hearts suspended from the branches and large hearts bearing the name of all couples attending. Every "king" will wear a crown when he and his partner have their pictures taken.

Highlight of the evening will be the coronation of his majesty, King Cupid, by Mrs. Annette Hitchcock, dean of women. The result of Wednesday's voting, in which every girl on campus had the opportunity to cast her vote for her choice of King Cupid, will determine what candidate will reign over the festivities.

Candidates for King Cupid include Ed Sand, Don Kremer, Dave Scarce, Jerry Yeager, Chuck Hammill and John Draper.

Miss Wiley Given Columbia Award

Miss Bonnie Wiley, Central Washington College faculty member now on leave of absence has been awarded a faculty scholarship at Columbia University in New York.

Faculty members in the School of Journalism at Columbia selected Miss Wiley for this award because of her outstanding work in journalism.

The former Associated Press reporter and Yakima Herald managing editor, has served as director of publications at Central for several years.

She has been at Columbia since September doing graduate work, but plans to return to Central next fall.

Activate The Inactive

For some strange reason, the library at Central Washington College of Education seems to be one of the most popular spots on campus this quarter. There could be several reasons for this amazing phenomenon, maybe this year's crop of students is here to get an education, maybe the professors graded too low last quarter and several hundred grade points have to be raised or else, maybe everyone is too broke to buy their usual five or six cups of coffee in the CUB every day or maybe the instructors are just pouring on the work this quarter because it is the shortest quarter of the regular school year.

The students are not even attending meetings in the usual large numbers this quarter. Some of the students claim that the reason they are not attending certain meetings is that they are too busy attending other meetings. Could our trouble here be that we have too many clubs and organizations on campus? All of these groups have their place on the campus but it seems that the best workers in the student body are trying to spread themselves out too thinly among several different clubs and organizations. How can a person expect to do a satisfactory job as an officer or chairman of an organization when he is also expected to do the same for three or four other similar groups?

There are potential leaders on this campus who are letting their talents go to waste by not participating in at least one deserving activity. Look over the lists of chairmen for the various activities on campus this quarter, or any quarter. It is the same list of names. These students are getting a lot more out of college than just book-learning. They are learning how to become useful citizens in a community by participating rather than just sitting back and observing or complaining about what is being accomplished.

During the next three and a half months there are five events coming up that deserve special consideration by more students. Sometime during February the Washington State Legislature will be deciding how much money Central Washington College of Education will receive for the coming biennium. The administration has asked for an appropriation of 6.8 million dollars to cover building needs, salaries and operating expenses for the next two years. If you look around you can't help but see our obvious additional building needs. A student-faculty group has been organized to help the college secure its appropriations. This group is organizing the student body into legislative districts so that influential persons in their districts can be contacted if and when the need arises to obtain help.

The other four coming events in which student help is needed are Dad's Day, the SGA elections in April, Mother's Day and Sweezy Day. These events will give you potential student leaders a chance to show what you can do. The committee for Dad's Day is already hard at work but they can still use some help. The SGA spring election gives the students a chance to participate in politics, either as a candidate or as an active backer of a candidate. The Mother's Day weekend will give the women students an opportunity to actively participate in a campus event. The Associated Women Students are in complete charge of the Mother's Day weekend. Sweezy Day, the annual mid-May play day on campus, is sponsored by the SGA and chairman will be selected early in Sprink quarter.

Show your fellow Sweezyites that you can do something besides studying and complaining about what your overworked student leaders are doing for you. We are not advocating the closure of the college library but we would like to see some of the load taken off the shoulders of our present student leaders. They are doing an exceptionally good job but they can also use some more help. Any students interested in any of the activities mentioned in this editorial, are urged to contact the SGA for further information.

Shades Of Mickey Spillane

Found in ACP Feature

(ACP) — It was a warm, stagnant night . . . no breeze, no moon. And very late. Silently he moved along the sidewalk past blackened dormitories. The others were all asleep; but he was restless, an annoying pang in the pit of his stomach.

After a quick glance behind, he approached the half-open doorway of a darkened building. He paused, fumbling in his pocket. Then, making no sound, he entered the gloomy interior and was enveloped in shadows. A solitary click . . . then silence.

Suddenly there were shouts from inside: "Thief! Robber!" A fist slammed out in the darkness, connecting solidly, noisily with its target. A grunt, muffled groans. The pounding blows intensified. Between thuds violent curses split the air. A foot stomped hard, driven by powerful leg muscles; and there was a short, pleading cry. Then it was over.

For a moment he lingered in the doorway, leaning on the frame for support. Then he shuffled unsteadily out into the street, his raw, skinned knuckles visible in the yellow illumination given off by the street light. Head hung low, shoulders slouched, he walked dejectedly down the street and into the night, seeming not to know where to go, what to do.

Later in the week, maintenance men arrived to adjust the faulty mechanism of the large red machine so that it would operate properly, dispensing a bottle of Coca-Cola whenever a dime was inserted in the coin slot.

Let 'Er Rip

Dear Box 50:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank both the students and the faculty for their participation in the 1957 World University Service drive here on the Central Washington College campus.

A special vote of thanks goes to the members of our committees who, we feel, did an outstanding job toward making this year's drive a success.

We want to express our appreciation to the SGA council for the opportunity to be co-chairmen of the World University Service project.

Again, thank you,

Journalists Get Checks For Outstanding Stories

Mrs. Dorothy McPhillips and Barbara Weller have been awarded checks for $2.50 for having their stories chosen as the most outstanding in the Jan. 25 and Feb. 1 issues of the Campus Crier.

The selections were made by Bill Leth, editor; Gene Luft, associate editor; and Robert Slingland, advisor.

Mrs. McPhillips' story of the stage setting for "The Great Big Doorstep" in the Jan. 25 issue was selected for its human interest angle and journalistic form.

Miss Weller's story of the Central Singers' performance at the legislative memorial session in the Feb. 1 issue was chosen for excellent journalistic form. The judges also noted that Miss Weller showed initiative in that the story was unassigned.

SGA Council Declares No Name Band In Spring

BILL LETH, Crier Editor

"Central Washington College of Education will not have a big name band on campus for a dance during spring quarter." This decision was made by the Student Government Association Council at its meeting on Monday evening. The council, by a seven to five vote, turned down an offer by Les Elgar's band to appear on campus on either April 19 or 23. The council felt that the $700 left from the budget set aside to subsidize a name band on campus should be left in a sinking fund for next year's junior prom, which the SGA subsidizes each year.

John Draper, SGA vice president, asked the dorm representatives to discuss in their dorm meetings the possibility of the SGA purchasing a net for the men's gym which will be used to lower the ceiling for dances.

The net, Draper explained, will save money and time in decorating the gym for dances. Draper said that he could secure a halibut net of sufficient size for approximately $500. Dick Hull, Walnut Street Dorms representative, said that he would look into the matter of obtaining a less expensive net.

The possibility of putting up a bulletin board somewhere on campus advertising student and faculty functions was discussed by the council. The need for such a bulletin board was referred to the council from the Student-Faculty Coordinating Board. A committee of four council members was appointed by SGA president Jack Lybyer, to investigate the problem.

Lowell Erland, Vetville representative, gave the council a report on a meeting held between the Vetville residents and the administration to discuss Vetville's housing problems.

The council voted to give the Vetville Housing Committee a vote of confidence in their effort to try and improve the housing conditions in Vetville, as long as it is carried out in a positive manner or attitude and will not bring undue embarrassment to the SGA council or the administration.

In other business of the evening, Shirley Willoughby, SGA secretary, reminded the council that the Honor Council Primary Election will be held next Tuesday, Feb. 12.

She also told the council that an open discussion on whether Central should have fraternities and sororities will be held at the Stu-

Culture Is Being Offered; Take Advantage Of It Now

By JACK LYBYER

I have a friend who likes to ask other students what college means to them. If you were asked, would you say to become educated or to broaden one's knowledge? Just what would you say?

We have had students question our methods of education. I think this is only right because when we stop asking ourselves whether there is a better way we are apt to begin using bad methods.

When are we as students going to take what has been said and apply it to ourselves. What obligations do we have to bring in new material which will broaden and supplement what we receive from the instructor.

We have a library with a rather extensive coverage of material. We like to be considered adults, but yet we expect to be brought everything and digest it as given. Suppose we knew nothing about one subject. It would be very easy for one person to influence the minds of everybody in the situation. This person might not only influence but dominate.

What could the result be if we were unfortunate to have the material presented by somebody not of our own convictions and basic principles?

There is considerable money spent on this campus to bring you other information and cultural knowledge, but how many students make the effort to utilize this material?

Last Sunday in the auditorium there assembled five people who

CWCE Biennium Budget Hearing Set For Feb. 18

Hearings on the biennium budgets for the three colleges of education in the state of Washington will be held in Olympia on Monday, Feb. 18.

The Joint Appropriations Committee will hear representatives from the three colleges give reasons why they need their requested biennium budgets.

Victor J. Bouillon, board chairman, Ellensburg; Mrs. Bernadine K. Frick, Marlin; and Don M. Tunstall, Yakima, CWCE's Board of Trustees will represent the college at the hearing. Administrators who will represent Central are Dr. Robert E. McConnell, president; Edward B. Rogel, director of public service; and Kenneth Courson, business manager.

have an extremely rich background, which could have been presented to you for your betterment.

Just because the subject was religion doesn't mean there was to be an evangelical revival. Religious Emphasis Week is to promote understanding. When we understand people we are more tolerant.

Religion has always been a great force in the history and development of the world. It seems only natural that we should know something about the religions of the world. Life magazine thought it important enough to devote several issues to the religions of the world.

Miss Lois Hammill Resigns Position

Miss Lois Hammill, sixth grade teacher at the College Elementary School, will resign her position at CES at the close of the school year, Dr. Robert E. McConnell announced this week.

Miss Hammill has been a member of the CES staff for the past eight years. Her plans for the future are indefinite.

An assistant professor of education, Miss Hammill is a graduate of Central Washington College. She received her master's degree from Colorado State College of Education.

AFROTC Talent Show
Co-Chairmen Chosen

Plans are now in full swing for the first talent show ever produced on the Central Washington College campus by the ROTC department.

Under the chairmanship of Basic Cadets A-2c Alden Esping and A-3c Rich Venetti, ROTC cadets at CWCE will soon put on a program of talent from freshmen and sophomore cadets.

A trophy, purchased from funds donated by advanced ROTC cadets in the Central detachment, will be presented to the flight presenting the most outstanding performance.

The co-chairman have lined up 12 to 13 acts for the affair.

Lybyer Heads
ECSA Meeting

Jack Lybyer, Central Washington College SGA President, will lay aside his SGA President's gavel tomorrow as he heads the Winter Conference of the Evergreen Conference Student Association.

Lybyer is president of the group, so Central is the sponsoring college of the Winter Conference. The Spurs will register the visiting presidents in the CUB Information Lounge on Saturday from 10-11 a.m.

The Faculty Lounge in the CUB will be the headquarters for the conference. A 12:15 luncheon in the Commons will separate the morning and afternoon sessions of the one day meeting.

CCH Sponsors
Student Trips

Miss Jean Hobbes and John Growcock have been selected to represent Central Washington College of Education at a legislative seminar in Olympia on Feb. 18-19.

The seminar, which is sponsored by the regional office of the Citizenship Clearing House, will be held at the Washington state capital.

Miss Hobbes was selected by the Young Republicans Club and Growcock was picked by the Young Democrats Club to attend as Central's delegates.

Then on Feb. 27-28, the regional office of the Citizenship Clearing House is sending six students from Washington and northern Idaho to Vancouver, British Columbia, to observe a mock parliament at the University of British Columbia.

"Central is one of the fortunate colleges in Washington and northern Idaho which has been asked to send a delegate to observe the mock parliament," Dr. Elwyn Odell, associate professor of political science at Central Washington College, said.

"The Young Republicans and Young Democrats will each pick a representative and Central's delegate will be selected from these two candidates," Dr. Odell added.

The Citizenship Clearing House will pay all of the delegates' expenses on these two trips.

MARIAN ANNIS, Central Washington College coed, was one of the clerks at the Religious Emphasis Week book store. All types of books on religion were offered for sale at the booth. Jim Van De Vanter, left, and Don Carlson are shown looking over the selection of books which the REW book sale committee selected for display during the past week.

Dr. Pettit Announces Ed. Survey
To Determine Department Needs

"We are getting more teachers now than ever before but more guidance is needed," Dr. Maurice Pettit, chairman of the Education and Psychology Division, told the Future Teachers of America group Tuesday night. A survey is presently being made by the Education department and Wayne Hertz, chairman of the Music Division, to determine what former graduates found beneficial and in which fields they felt they needed additional study.

Pettit gave some startling but humorous facts regarding the beginning teachers and the fields they were being forced to teach without adequate training.

A recent curriculum change made on campus which Pettit explained was the changing of the English sequence. The course numbers are being changed from 101, 102 and 103, to 101, 201 and 301.

By 1960, Pettit stated, there will be some 2000 students on campus and facilities are desperately needed. He explained the future building plans and curriculum plans which include the incorporation of tests to see how well qualified students are to become teachers.

Of special interest to students planning to teach spring quarter, Pettit gave the following advice—find out everything the home-room teacher did at the beginning of the year to get the ball rolling, and where does the teacher begin the curriculum and where does he plan to cut off at the end of the year and how he is obtaining his objectives.

Encouragement was given to students planning to teach this spring quarter in that many fields were still open and choice positions are available for students qualifying to student teach next quarter. Such a wide choice has not been available before during the past two years, Pettit said.

Each week a committee of FTA members meet to discuss the education program and are compiling a data sheet to present to the Education Division regarding possible changes students feel should be made in the present program.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE WINTER QUARTER HONOR COUNCIL CANDIDATES. These 15 students have filed for the four vacant positions on the Honor Council this quarter. Some other students have also filed but they were unable to attend the picture taking get-together Tuesday evening. The women left to right, Jean Miller, Jama Goodman, Beverly Farmer, Caroline Reuther, Leta Thornton, Bonnie Munz and Maralyn Mannie. The men left to right, Brian Gerards, Dave Fitzgerald, Bob Holtz, Pat Crawford, Dick Hull, Ted Wood, Carl Tingelstad and Dave Perkins.

Sixteen Candidates File For Honor Council Seats

Sixteen candidates for the winter quarter Honor Council election had filed petitions by noon Wednesday, Shirley Willoughby, election committee chairman, reported to the Campus Crier.

The candidates include seven women and nine men, who are vying for the four positions which will be filled in the general election on Tuesday, Feb. 19. Two women and two men will be elected in the general election to serve on the Honor Council for the coming year.

"As the Crier's final deadline was several hours before the deadline for filing petitions, we may not have material on all of the candidates in this issue of the paper," Bill Leth, Crier editor said.

"We will have a story in next week's issue of the Crier on the eight candidates for the general election," Leth added. "Also we were unable to contact George Carberry, a candidate from Belleville, in order to get some information about him."

"I want to urge every student in the Central Washington College community to vote, both during the primary election next Tuesday, Feb. 12, and in the general election on Tuesday, Feb. 19," Miss Willoughby said.

"Everyone of your votes is important to these candidates," she added.

Mixer Divides Dual Movies

Tonight's SGA dime movie, "A Man Called Peter," stars Richard Todd and Jean Peters. This 123 minute film will be preceded by chapter three of "The Sea Hound," starring Buster Crabbe as the adventurous Captain Silver.

"A Man Called Peter" is the story of a Scottish immigrant boy who won the love and affection of his adopted land because of his strong character.

Two dime movies will be offered the students Saturday night. The early movie, starting at 7:15, is a western, "Broken Lance." Filmed in Arizona, in cinemascope and color, it stars Spencer Tracy, Jean Peters and Robert Wagner.

At 10:45, after the SGA dime mixer in the men's gym, the late movie, "Seven Brides For Seven Brothers," will be shown. This movie, a musical in color, features Jane Powell and Howard Keel. It is scheduled to end about 12:30 a.m.

Newman Club Plans Party

On Sunday, Feb. 10, Newman Club is planning on holding a skiing party at Snoqualmie Pass. The group is planning on having skiing, sledding and other types of activities in the snow.

"The cost will be very inexpensive and a lunch will be provided," Bob Feuchter said. "We would like to welcome all students who are interested to attend," he added.

"We will all meet at the church after the 8 a.m. mass and leave for the mountain in a group," Bob Sullivan stated.

Last Sunday, the Newman Club sponsored the annual REW supper for all of the college church groups in Ellensburg. Approximately 100 persons attended the dinner.

Next Monday evening, Feb. 11, there will be a Newman Club meeting in the club room at the church at 8 p.m. The program will consist of an evaluation of REW and a group discussion of some of the ideas of the Catholic church.

Canterbury Club

A discussion on the early history of the Episcopal Church will be held at the weekly meeting of the Canterbury Club this Sunday evening in the Parish Hall of the Episcopal Church.

"The discussion will take place after a short business meeting and dinner," Ted Gumeson, Canterbury Association president said.

Canterbury Association meetings are held every Sunday evening starting at 6:30, right after the Evening Prayer service.

"At our last meeting we discussed the possibility of having a sleigh ride some Sunday evening during winter quarter," Gumeson said.

"We are investigating the possibility of where and when a sleigh ride will be feasible," he further stated.

Wesley Club

The program for this Sunday, Feb. 10, at the Wesley Club, will be a replica of "The Lord's Supper."

The meal will be served at 5:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church and will consist of the same type of food served at the Last Supper. Beverly Nicholas is chairman of the program.

Each Tuesday morning from 10-12 a coffee hour is held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Ron Hummel at 709 N. Poplar for all Methodist students and faculty.

A special invitation is extended by Rev. and Mrs. Hummel to attend this coffee hour.

have been "Stella" in "The Streetcar Named Desire," "Roxanne" in "Cyrano De Bergerac," a comedy part in "You Can't Take it With You" and on television in "Studio One" and "Hallmark Theatre."

Ball Features Ombos Band

This year's Military Ball, to be held Saturday, March 2, from 9-12 p.m. in the men's gym, will feature the music of the "Ombos," an eleven piece band from Seattle.

Don Fujimoto, chairman of the band committee, made the arrangements. Decorations will follow the theme of "Serenade in Blue," and will include a false ceiling.

Lucky Winners Nab Bingo Funds

Cash winnings drifted into the same pockets as Vivian Troy, Gene Luft, and Dave Searce became multiple winners at the SGA bingo party last Friday.

Luft, surrounded by hisses and boos of irate losers, journeyed to the winners circle three times to collect a total of $4. Miss Troy, who won $3 for two bingos, was greeted with the same ovation from the crowd. Searce also won $3 for two bingos.

Huberta Peacock walked off with the jackpot of $5 for a black-out bingo in the final game. Other winners were Pat Lacey, $4; Al Marshall, $2; Bill McFadden, $2; Wayne Kirchner, $2 and Marty Budzius, $1.

Jack Turner and Ron Brumbaugh called numbers during the evening.

CWC Assembly Features Writer

Mary Leader, writer and actress, will present "Women of Destiny" at the Thursday assembly, Feb. 14, at 11 a.m. in the Central auditorium.

Miss Leader will portray the Biblical women in a series of monologues.

"Women of Destiny" includes such characters as "Ruth," the wife of Boaz, "Hannah," mother of the prophet Samuel, "Michal," daughter of Saul and wife of David, "Herodias," who tempted John the Baptist, and "Mary Magdalene."

Colorful costumes and appropriate settings are used by the actress to enhance the vivid characters.

Miss Leader has played parts in both dramatic and comedy productions as well as numerous television programs. Among them

Tibutian Discus Thrower Fostered Dad's Day Idea

By JAN CROOKS

With the anticipation of Dad's Day in the offing the Dad's Day committee thought it would be a good idea to inform Centralites how this event originated.

Many centuries ago on the ancient island of Tibus off the coast of Italy, a young discus thrower, Centrus, lived with his invalid father. Centrus had to do everything around the home including dishwashing. Centrus being a discus thrower, was good at slinging the old dishes.

One day he was out on the athletic field throwing the discus when a beautiful, young Tibutian strolled by. She stopped at the edge of the field and viewed with interest the rippling muscles of strong Centrus. Centrus stopped his discus in mid-air and "mosied" over to where she stood. They struck up a light conversation about the weather and its effect on discus throwing.

In the following weeks Centrus' admiration for the young Tibutian grew. They began to understand each others interests. Strangely enough the young maiden just happened to be passing by the field at the same time when Centrus was discus hurling.

Finally Centrus asked the maiden if she would like to go to the Coliseum with him that day. "What's playing?" she asked. "The Gladiators," he replied. "What about your dishwashing job at home?" she queried. "To heck with the dishes, Centrus yelled, this is Dad's Day."

Hence the phrase, Dad's Day spread over the entire island of Tibus and eventually was brought to the New World by one of Centrus' ancestors.

Dad's Day found its way to Central many years ago and since

IVCF Gathering Hosts Rev. Harry Brahm

The Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship met Tuesday, Feb. 5 to hear the Reverend Harry "Hap" Brahm give a talk on "God's Minority."

Reverend Brahm is the assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Yakima.

Before the talk Pete Summerill led the group in singing hymns. A violin solo, "Sunrise" by W. C. Poole, was played by Wilma Vice. Refreshments were served.

then has been celebrated with great festivities.

Dad's Day on Feb. 15-17 this year, will be celebrated in a western style unknown to its early originator. Sagebrush, cactus, wagon wheels and western dress will greet the many dads who are expected to attend.

The banquet menu for Saturday night includes a typically western spread of fried chicken with all the trimmings. Entertainment during the banquet will be provided by Cherie Willoughby, who will give a dramatic reading, and the Squires, featuring Brian Gerards' "Originals."

"We hope this year's Dad's Day will be as large a success as the ones that have preceded it at Central," stated John Draper, general chairman.

Twelve Cadets Participate In Central's Flight Program

By DAVE PERKINS

Central's AFROTC Advanced Cadets are taking to the skies on their own now, and it's for real! The much talked-about flight program for Sweezy's cadets is now in progress, with future jet pilots getting their first taste of handling a plane for themselves.

Twelve senior cadets are presently taking actual flight training at Bower's Field, given by the Mid State Aviation Co. of Ellensburg. Four more cadets, who are student teaching this quarter, will also be taking the training next quarter.

The program provides for 35 hours of flight, the majority of which will be solo flying time. Pre-solo time takes from 8-12 hours, then the cadets are on their own. Two flights will be cross country affairs, with one trip to be at least 25 miles, including a landing and take-off at the destination point, and the other trip to be at least 100 miles from Ellensburg, with a landing and take-off at the distant airport.

A few of the cadets have already completed nearly all their dual time and will soon be doing their solo flights. At present, cadets are scheduled for 45-60 minute sessions at the airport. The program is carried on throughout the entire week.

On the ground, the Cadets will have to complete 35 hours of instruction, including 15 hours of meteorology, 15 hours of navigation, and 5 hours of Civil Aeronautics Association regulations. Since the cadets have already received instruction in the first two subjects in their ROTC classes, only a brief review of them and the 5 hours of CAA instruction will be taken by the cadets.

The climax to the entire program for each cadet will be his chance at a private pilot's license. A written test on CAA regulations and a flight check by CAA officials will determine whether the cadet is qualified for the license.

Training is now being done in 85 horsepower craft at the local field, and it hoped that larger aircraft of 115 horsepower may be brought in for the program later in the year. All cadets participating in the program are covered by insurance provided for by the Federal Employees Compensation Act.

Category I (pilot) seniors are the only cadets who will be given instruction this year, due to the late start in the program. Next year, however, all advanced cadets, both juniors and seniors, will be given the instruction, and some sophomore cadets may have a chance to participate in the program.

Senior cadets enrolled in this year's program include Neil Wallace, Dean Wake, William Tucker, Ross Simmons, Eldon Peterson,

CWCE Leaders Attend Local Concert Meeting

Jack Lybyer, SGA president, Ed Sand, Sigma Mu president; and Wayne Heisserman, SGA social Commissioner, attended the annual Ellensburg Community Concert Association meeting, as student representatives, last week.

The Ellensburg Community Concert Association is composed of citizens of Ellensburg and surrounding communities, as well as Central Washington College students through their student government association.

Admission to the community concerts, which are held in the college auditorium, is by membership or SGA card. Regular membership is $6.25 per year, but Central students are admitted to the concerts on their SGA cards. The SGA pays $1 a student per year for membership in the association.

A. Bert Christianson, director of the college band, was elected president of the association for the 1957-58 season at the meeting.

The next concert scheduled for this winter will be "Basques de Ballet de Biarritz" on Feb. 28.

Remo Nicoli, Robert Michelsen, John Liboky, Wesley Gray, Edward Faust, Ervin Ely, William Duft, Laurence Downey, Stephen Doutrich, James Carlton, and Peter Burdulis.

A small meteorite is on display in the Science building.

Twenty-Eight Participate In Student Music Recital

Twenty-eight students from the CWCE Music Department were featured in a recital February 4 in the auditorium.

Soprano Maria Lember and baritone Ronald Knight opened the program with "La ci Dorem La mano" by Mozart. Albert Stevens, tenor, sang Monteverde's "Lasciate-mi Morire." Sheryl Kircher played an alto saxophone solo, "Eclipse" by Trumbauer. Delores Mueller performed Chopin's "Nocturne, Op. 48, No. 1" on the piano. "Sonata in A Major" by Scarlatti was Barbara Hertz's piano solo.

Kay Short, mezzo-soprano, sang "Ouvre Tes Yeux Bleus" by Massenet. Huberta Peacock rendered two organ selections, "Communion" by Lemmens and "Prelude in C Major" by Bach. Soprano Phyllis Reynolds sang Nevins' "Mighty Lak a Rose" and Massenet's "Elegie." "Tu lo soi" by Torelli was sung by Stan Langton, baritone.

Soprano Norma Woodard's solos were "Alma del core" by Caldara and "Morgen" by Strauss. An alto Saxophone solo, "Moderne" by Bennett, was played by Ross Powell. Ted Gumeson performed the violin selection "Scherzo" by Van Goens. An organ solo by Mildred Renfrow was "Prelude and Fugue in A Minor" by Bach. Pianist Dorothy Heintz played "Allemande from Suite in A Minor" by Handel and "Warum from Phantasy Pieces" by Schuman. Shostakovich's "Three Fantastic Dances" was Janice Schwartz's piano solo. Roger Calhoun rendered Clerisse's "Prom-

President's Son Gets Appointment

Douglas E. McConnell, 17, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. McConnell, has been given a principal appointment to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., United States Senator Henry J. Jackson announced this week.

Dr. McConnell, Central Washington College president, said that his son has already passed his physical examination and that he will take a competitive qualifying examination at McChord Field in March.

McConnell is a senior at Ellensburg high school and has been active in sports and dramatics, as well as serving as president of his senior class.

Central's chances at catching PLC in the conference race are gone, but our final league contest with the powerful Gladiators at the end of the season is still going to be one of the most important games of the year for the Cats.

Providing that the Cats don't drop one to CPS, UBC or Western before February 20, and providing that Whitworth keeps on winning from here on out, then the February 20 contest could mean the difference between second or third place for the Cats.

Central has ended up in third place the last two years behind Whitworth and PLC; this year certainly doesn't give us the easiest way to stick in second since we've got the toughest team of all to face in the conference finale. I think that the Cats have the power to stop the Lutheran win streak, tho, and with the added advantage of the home floor this time, maybe Central's squad can give PLC something to think about.

* * * * *

Since the Cats will be back on the home court again this coming Thursday after a long string of road games, and since we will again be using the E-Burg High School gymnasium, it behooves us to observe the school's request to keep off the playing floor after the games. Despite repeated announcements over the PA system at the games, there are always people all over the floor after the contest is over.

A new floor such as that at the new high school can be easily marred and scratched by street shoes, so let's try to help the high school keep their gym in top shape by staying off the playing area.

Football is long gone now but the poor taste of the Evergreen Conference's decision to put John Liboky on the second team of the All-Evergreen Conference team still remain. Big John was without a doubt one of the top guards in the entire Pacific Northwest and yet the highest honor the EG Conference gave him was second team.

This doesn't quite make sense, especially when one considers the fact that Liboky was soon later given honorable mention on the Little All-American team and then was soon placed on the second team of the All-Northwest team to boot. Evidently the Evergreen Conference was half asleep when they made their choice.

Sportrait Glenn Wood Out For Last Season

Glenn Wood, one of the few seniors on the Wildcat basketball team, is presented by Sportrait this week. Twenty-two years old and a mere 5'10", Glenn is climaxed his third and last season as a proud letterman of the Wildcats. "Woody" is noted for his speed, ball-handling, and shooting ability.

Glenn Wood

He presently leads the Wildcats in percentage of free throws made and also has one of the highest percentages in the field goal category.

Wood was born in Rutland, North Dakota and moved to Chehalis, Washington, while in the fifth grade. Attending Chehalis High School, he established a glorious athletic record. He lettered three years in football and basketball and one year in track. Glenn was chosen to the Central League's All-Conference team once in football and twice in basketball. On the gridiron he was a speedy halfback and end. During his senior year, he was the captain of the Bearcats' basketball team and was

ROTC Rifle Team Starts Firing Practice Rounds

"Ready . . . Aim . . . Fire!" And the trigger is pulled on Central Washington College's 1957 AFROTC Rifle Team.

The 25 man team started firing early last week in preparation for their first meet which will be held at the National Guard Armory here in town. Scores will be sent to other colleges and competitive standings will be made in that fashion. Actual shoulder to shoulder meets will not be held until later in the season. The Sweezy riflemen will fly to Cheney to tangle bullseyes with Eastern, although the date has not yet been set.

An organizational meeting was held January 17 and an instructional film was shown illustrating firing positions, parts of the gun to be used, and methods of transporting them safely. Sergeant Nunn, the staff advisor for the group, spoke on safety.

The Cadets will be firing Winchester, models .52 A and .75. There are still spots open on the team and interested cadets are urged to contact Sgt. Nunn at their earliest opportunity.

voted the most inspirational player.

In the fall of 1953, Glenn enrolled at Centralia J.C. for his freshman year. He lettered in football and basketball there. Transferring to Central, Woody has lettered in basketball every season.

"I feel that in the three years I have been here, this year's squad has shown the most desire," Glenn said. "With a few breaks we could have gone all the way. PLC not only is a good small college team but a team that would rank high with large college teams."

Glenn has been married three years. His wife, Peggy, is a second grade teacher at Washington Grade School here in Ellensburg. He is an education major with four minors: history, geography, physical education, and professionalized subjects.

Cats Split Weekend Games To Share Second Place Tie

Central Washington's Wildcats are out of contention for the Evergreen Conference championship after splitting a two-game road trip last weekend. The Cats dropped as far as third place Friday night when Whitworth squeezed out a 68-66 victory in Spokane but bounced back into a second place tie by topping Eastern 66-54 Saturday night.

The Whitworth game could have gone either way but the Cats were without the service of forward Joe Kominski and just couldn't muster the troops. Kominski sat out most of the game with an injured ankle. Bill Coordes dropped sixteen points in the bucket and reserve forward Don Kremer added ten. The game was just as close as Central raced to a 16-0 lead at Cheney Saturday night and the Eastern squad didn't hit the score board for the first eight minutes. Playing with reserves part of the time, the Cats romped away with this one. Sharpshooting Stu Hanson potted 22 points to lead the scoring parade. Wildcat Bill Coordes again hit for 16. Savage scorers were headed by the 11 point output of Ken Mathewson.

The Cats showed well last weekend despite injuries to key men. In addition to Kominski's absence, the Central hoopsters did without Keith Tonkin, backboard specialist. Both Tonkin and Kominski are slated to return to action next week.

Central hits the road again this weekend. They'll tangle with the Loggers of College of Puget Sound tomorrow night in Tacoma. The Cats took the earlier game this year 69-59.

Central Squad Travels To Tacoma For Final Road Contest Tomorrow

By ERROL TEMPLER

This weekend the Central Washington Wildcats put on their traveling shoes for the last time in conference action as they journey to Tacoma where they will tangle with the CPS Loggers. The Cats play the Loggers Saturday night, and then round out conference play on their home floor against UBC, Western, and PLC. Central will end the season in a non-conference game with SPC at Seattle the 23rd of this month.

The Loggers, as of late, have dropped into a slump and just can't seem to get going again. Last weekend they were humbled by the two cellar teams. Western downed them by an overwhelming 72-45 margin Friday night and UBC slipped by the Loggers the following night 53-51.

CPS has had trouble getting rebounds and as a result have been losing games they should be winning. The Loggers have had few bright spots, but big Ed Bowman looked good all last weekend. After Friday's miserable loss CPS picked up Saturday night with Don Moseid and Tom Names hitting quite often. The probable starters for CPS tomorrow night will be Ed Bowman at center, Tom Names and Bob Bafus at the forwards, and Don Moseid and either John Barnett or Isadore Washington at the guard positions.

Next Thursday night the Wildcats will play host to UBC's Thunderbirds. The Birds upset the Loggers last week and would like nothing better than to do the same against the Wildcats, who are fighting hard for second place in the conference. UBC still leads the conference in total defense, but is also the lowest scoring team. Their win over CPS proved that it isn't necessary to score too many points as long as the opponent scores less. The Birds have been hurt by lack of experience.

The Wildcats ended last week's play still tied with Whitworth for second place with a 5-win 3-loss record. It is very important that the Cats win this weekend if they are to stay in contention for the second spot.

Demonstration By Expert Cancelled

Mr. Charles C. Peterson, expert on billiards who was scheduled to appear in the CUB yesterday and today, has cancelled his demonstrations here.

Mrs. Olive Schnebly, CUB director, received a telegram early Tuesday morning advising her that Mr. Peterson had cancelled all engagements due to illness. He had been currently on tour with his 27th year of exhibitions to college and university students throughout the United States.

BUT WHERE'S THE ICE? Crier sports writer Hal Heath, left, and Marty Budzius look over the newly-formed ice skating rink in back of the CUB that is now slowly melting away. Budzius spent many long hours making preparations for equipment to do the work, lighting facilities for the rink, and above all, skates . . . but to no avail. The weatherman failed to cooperate with the result that Central students are going to have to do their skating on roller skates. Oh, well—who knows? The rink may be the solution to Central's need for a swimming pool!

The Case Of The Melting Ice Rink

— Or —

For Sale: Ice Skates, Cheap

By HAL HEATH

The warm Chinook wind which blew into Ellensburg last Thursday morning has changed Marty Budzius' tune from "The Skaters' Waltz" to "Play Me Hearts and Flowers" and left Central's campus with an iceless rink.

The whole thing started when Marty decided that the campus needed a skating rink and proposed to use Mother Nature's facilities. Budzius went first to PE Instructor Howard Schaub. Mr. Schaub relayed the request to Athletic Director Leo Nicholson and the coach gave him the green light.

That's when Marty started warming to the task. Tuesday night found him on President McConnell's carpet with crossed fingers and high hopes. The President condemned the idea at first but our Hero was persistent and soon got the necessary backing.

The wheels really started churning then. Maintenance department kicked through with a tractor and the men of Wilson Hall pledged the man power. With Budzius and Chuck Hamill supervising, the project began taking shape around noon Thursday. Snow was shoveled into three foot banks with sides 125 feet long. The idea was to flood the square with water and watch it become a skating rink. The only thing missing was the ICE and it never materialized.

By three in the afternoon the place was swimming in slush and to the casual observer spring was on the way. As the weather got warmer, Marty's idea got cooler, and by Friday afternoon he was ready to toss in the ear muffs.

But Hiark! Saturday morning dawned cold and crisp. Our Hero raced to the local fire department with skates in one hand and a request for water in the other.

Now, there are two types of firemen in this modern world: those who read the 30-day weather report and those who don't. With all respect to the E-burg fire department, we must conclude that they are among the first type mentioned.

Confident that the trend was toward warmer weather, our firemen sent Marty trudging back to campus dry as a cracker in late August.

Isn't that a tragic story friend? I mean really! Here we have a lad with good intentions and bad breaks. The fact that we are all glad to see spring approaching has nothing to do with it.

Our dauntless Hero made the supreme effort and must be congratulated, but like the fellow says: "You win some, You lose some — and then sometimes it thaws."

YOURSELF

"Now there's an interesting face —
Ugly, but not commonplace . . .
Full of charm, I must admit
Full of character and wit!
Why on earth can't women see
All the things I see in me?"

FOCUS ON CENTRAL... Sweecy Students Participate In Religious Emphasis Week

THE CENTRAL SINGERS, under the direction of Wayne Hertz, opened the kick-off assembly for Religious Emphasis Week Sunday evening. The group sang 4 numbers. The singers will present a program for Dad's Day before they go on tour throughout western Washington. On the trip they will visit thirteen towns. The 70-voice choir has been accorded the honor of appearing at the 1957 Memorial Session of the Washington State Legislature in Olympia on February 22. The program for the Legislature will consist of "O Thou in Whom We Live and Move," "How They So Softly Rest," "O God Thou Art My God," "There's a City Called Heaven," and "I Am an American." The choir will also appear on a Seattle television station. Towns to be visited on the tour will be Enumclaw, Sumner, Kelso, Longview, Chehalis, Centralia, Aberdeen, Olympia, Puyallup, Tacoma, Renton, Bellevue and Seattle.

THE SNOBALL RETREAT was not entirely discussions and speeches. Students had several activity periods which included a dance at the Lazy F trading post, a vesper service and sledding. Here students are relaxing in the main lodge and introducing themselves to the group. Fun was emphasized as well as religion in this first activity of Religious Emphasis Week.

"IS CHRISTIANITY LOGICAL?" was the topic of the seminar held Tuesday in the card room of the CUB lead by the Rev. Harry Brahams. This was one of the many seminars held in conjunction with REW. Rev. Brahams is now assistant minister at the First Presbyterian Church of Yakima. He attended Maryville College in Tennessee, a Presbyterian college, for four years where he majored in Religion and the Bible. He graduated in 1950. He received his Bachelor of Divinity from the Princeton Seminary at Princeton, New Jersey, in 1953.

RABBI WILLIAM A. SANDERSON addressed approximately 40 girls at the Munson fireside held Tuesday at 8:30. The Rabbi told of some of the beliefs and teachings of the Jewish faith. He also showed some items used in Jewish services. Rabbi Sanderson received his B.A. from the University of Cincinnati and his B.H.L. and M.H.L. from the Hebrew Union College. He graduated from the U.S. Naval Chaplains School in Newport, Rhode Island and served as a chaplain in the Navy for several years. He was sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society which disseminates authentic information concerning Judaism.

PEGGY SHARPE, Central's Danforth graduate, relaxes during a discussion with Chuck Saas at the SNOBALL Retreat held last Friday and Saturday. Approximately 50 students, REW committee advisors, chairmen and members attended the two-day affair. The retreat was held at the Lazy F Guest Ranch. Discussions were held on the activities of REW and its perpetuation throughout the year. Miss Sharpe and Clifford Wolfsehr, Central's librarian, were speakers for the retreat.
